AGRICULTURAL WORK

During the year the service of the County Agricultural Agent has returned to more regular extension work. However, war time developments are still important in shaping the agricultural program. This past year saw an increase in subject matter meetings for the county farmers.

All farmers have been kept informed by circular letters and published articles regarding special crop and livestock developments and recommended practices, spray bulletins, pest control calendars, tips on poultry range management, bee-keeping and so forth. Assistance to individuals in connection with their agricultural production and marketing problems has been given when requested.

HOME BUREAU WORK

During the year 220 women attended 12 meetings or demonstrations conducted by 12 local leaders assisted by the County and State Agents. There were 6 different projects undertaken during the year, a few of which included Christmas Gift Kit, Slip Covers, Salad Making and Clothes Clinic. The following local leaders incurred expenses amounting to $11.29: Mrs. Wells Carver, Mrs. E. E. Dickinson, Mrs. Warren Dickinson, Mrs. Alexander Larson, Mrs. Francis Jones, and Mrs. Ben Libby.

4-H CLUB WORK

There were 63 young people enrolled in 4 different 4-H Club projects under the direction of 5 local leaders and the County Agents. Outstanding awards for excellence in their projects were given to several members. The following local leader incurred expenses amounting to $16.49: Mr. Ben F. Libby.

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

For the Year Ending December 31, 1944

To the inhabitants of the Town of Hampden:

The Planning Board has held monthly meetings during which the building inspector has presented the permits of the current month.

Many requests for liberalizing restrictions on side and rear lot lines relative to the erection of accessory buildings have been received and, as a result, the board is recommending certain modifications to be acted upon at the next town meeting.

One case of violation of the zoning by-laws and failure to take out a permit for the erection of poultry houses was brought before Superior Court and a verdict secured upholding the town's zoning by-laws.

In general, the Board has sought to maintain a high standard through the town's building and zoning by-laws with a vision of a desirable post-war expansion.

WILFRED R. BRECK

Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee of the Town of Hampden:

My fourth annual report as superintendent of schools in the town of Hampden is submitted herewith.

Change In Teaching Staff

Only one change was necessary in our teaching staff last September. This was necessitated by the election of Miss Mary Adams to a position in the West Springfield school system. We were very fortunate in being able to acquire the services of Mrs. Grace I. Rodin. Mrs. Rodin is a resident of Springfield, a graduate of Westfield Normal School, and has had the advantage of having taken several courses at Clark University and Hyannis Teachers' College Summer School. She has taught in Westfield, East Hartford, and Springfield. Mrs. Rodin is proving to be a most worthwhile addition to our corps of teachers.

Enrolment

While there has been but a slight decrease in enrolment this year, indications point to a decidedly larger number of children who will enter school in the near future. Serious thought should be given to the consideration of additional classrooms. It would be wise to consider the advantages of retaining our ninth grade pupils in town.

Visual Education

Our motion picture program this year lists the following: This is New England, Americans All, Hand in Hand (Junior Red Cross film), Secret Weapon, Jungle Giants, Bosko's Easter Egg, Keyboard Concerts, Overture to Oberon, Trees for Tomorrow, Jack and the Beanstalk, Brazil's Fishing School, The Flag speaks, Sons of the Plains, High Over the Border, New England Yesterday and Today, South of the Border, Freedom Rides on Rubber.

It is recommended that plans be made to buy an inexpensive projector for slides and filmstrips which can be purchased from time to time. In this manner a library of still films can be started and expanded yearly. These films do not cost very much and can be used year after year to enrich our teaching of art, biography, character education, communication, first aid, geography, health, history, language, literature, music and reading.

No School Signal

There is none. Parents are requested not to call teachers, principals, or the superintendent to ask whether there is to be school when there is inclement weather. For the past few years the no school signal has been eliminated. Schools are open each school day regardless of weather conditions. Parents and others responsible for the children are to decide whether or not the weather is sufficiently bad to warrant keeping children at home. Children living near bus stops and near the school building may be able to get to school without undue hardship. Those who cannot do this should stay at home. Since there are no attendance contests in our schools, no child will be the object of criticism.

Yearly more cities and towns are adopting the no "No School Signal" plan and are finding it to work out very satisfactorily.

Report Cards

Last May a questionnaire regarding report cards was sent to all parents. The returns revealed that slightly more than half of our parents were not interested in any drastic changes. However, a close study of the answers indicate that many more than 50% would welcome certain improvements; 60% would like to see a second mark in spelling indicating how well pupils are spelling in all written work other than the formal spelling lesson; 85% want to be informed as to possible reasons for unsatisfactory marks. Many parents feel that there should be an increase in the number of points used in the rating of citizenship qualities. At present there are only two; namely Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory. Many of us are of the opinion that a five point rating scale here is fully as important as that which now obtains in the scholarship section. Tentative new report card forms have been submitted for the consideration of the members of the school committee and soon there will be meetings of the teachers who will be given the opportunity for discussion.

Honor Pupils in High and Grade Schools

Hampden is proud of the high rating achieved by so many of its secondary school pupils. Again this year the percentage of those listed on the honor rolls of the Springfield high and trade schools remains high.

Year	Total Pupils	Honor Pupils	Per Cent
1939	48	14	29
1940	40	12	30
1941	48	16	33
1942	44	18	41
1943	51	17	33
1944	62	20	32

Achievement Tests

The annual achievement testing was done again as in past years and the results in all grades indicated achievement above the test norms. The results for the Wilhamendow Union are as follows:

Grade	Average	Norm
1	2.1	1.9
2	3.0	2.9
3	4.2	3.9
4	5.2	4.9
5	6.1	5.9
6	7.2	6.9
7	8.2	7.9
8	9.5	8.9

In explanation of this table, attention is called to the fact that 8.9, for instance, means ninth month of school in the eighth grade; 2.1 means the first month of school in the second grade and so on. Since the tests this year were given in May, the norm of achievement for any grade is indicated by the decimal .9.

Health

Dr. Harry J. Corwin was appointed school physician to replace Dr. Schneider of Monson who was called in the United States War Service.

Acknowledgements

The schools of Hampden and East Longmeadow during the past year were presented with recordings of "The Dramatization of the Star Spangled Banner" by the American Legion Junior Auxiliary. We acknowledge with thanks these worthwhile gifts. We also appreciate the American Legion Auxiliary's sponsoring of the essay contest, the subject of which was "A Pioneer Pattern for the Nation of Tomorrow." Much interest was shown by the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades.

Professional Organizations

Your superintendent of schools is proud to announce that the entire teaching staff is enrolled in the local, county, state, and national professional education organizations. These are the Wilhameadow Teachers' Association (comprising the towns of Wilbraham, Hampden, and East Longmeadow), the Hampden County Teachers' Association, the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, and the National Education Association. Each teacher, by virtue of her membership, receives two monthly magazines, The Massachusetts Teacher and the Journal of the National Education Association. Several teachers are enrolled in courses in education offered by various institutions of higher learning.

Conclusion

Please note that included in this report are individual reports of the school nurse, school dentist, handwriting, art, and music supervisors, and also, for the first time, a report of the principal. All merit your attention and interest.

My thanks and appreciation are extended to the school committee, pupils, teachers, principal, parents, and all who are cooperating so splendidly to make our schools friendly, efficient, and successful.

"The good education of youth has been esteemed by wise men of all ages as the surest foundation of the happiness both of private families and commonwealths."

—Benjamin Franklin

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND R. SAWYER,

REPORT OF SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

To Mr. Edmund R. Sawyer, Superintendent of Schools:

There is always something of interest going on in a school, but, because of lack of space, we will mention just a few of the activities of the past year.

Highlights of the Year by Classrooms

Grades 1 and 2, Mrs. Jeffrey

In January the pupils made a fascinating Mother Goose poster for the corridor bulletin board. Everyone in the class participated. Many a pudgy little finger pointed out "That's what I made," and many a little heart sang with happiness in the joy of accomplishment.

Grades 2 and 3, Miss Teahan

In March the pupils made an elaborate poster, depicting the life of the people of Holland. The background was painted with water colors, a new experience for second graders.

In May the pupils took part in a Music Festival, singing songs of "Imagination."

Grades 3 and 4, Mrs. Rodin

Because the news of today is the history of tomorrow, the children in the third and fourth grades have been keeping a "News of the Week" record. They not only bring in war news, but also articles pertaining to nature study, health, and safety, thereby correlating reading, language, geography, science, health, and safety. The children enjoy collecting these news items and refer to them often.

Grades 4 and 5, Mrs. Lavoie

In February the fifth grade pupils presented a play in the auditorium as part of their literature for the year. This play was entitled "Proud Princess," adapted by Katherine Duncan Morse. The play was enjoyed by all.

As part of the social studies work both fourth and fifth grades made interesting history notebooks. They included pictures, drawings, poems, and test papers concerning the events studied.

Grades 6 and 7, Miss Flynn

During the year grades six and seven have been using activities for each month furnished free of charge by the Coca-Cola Company. In connection with this the pupils built a typical lumber mill exhibit in miniature. There was a sawmill which actually could be operated. All this entailed much work on the children's part plus the cooperation of Mr. Perkins in taking several of the youngsters to Somers to view a sawmill in operation.

In social studies the sixth grade made two scenic borders around their room, one depicting the creation of the earth to modern times, the other, a border on New England industries.

Grades 7 and 8, Mrs. McCray

In February pupils of grades seven and eight wrote essays on the subject, "Pioneer Pattern for the Nation of Tomorrow." This essay contest was sponsored by the Junior Auxilliary of the Gunther-Rowley Post of the American Legion, which offered money awards as first, second, and third prizes.

This would be a difficult subject even for adults. However, the children's essays were excellent, and as such, were gratifying to all concerned. Jeneva Asher of grade eight won first prize; Leanna King, seventh grade, second prize; and James Lemon, eighth grade, third prize.

At our Christmas Assembly grades seven and eight presented a play, "Christmas in Storybook Land," by Ruby Bindley. This correlated well with our work for reading certificates as all characters in this play were famous in literature, including Tom Sawyer, Heidi, Alice in Wonderland, Jo March of "Little Women" and many others.

Junior Red Cross

The Hampden Consolidated School is enrolled 100% in the Junior Red Cross. The officers of the Hampden Council are as follows: President, Sherwood Carver; Vice-President, Clara Fuller; Secretary, Joan LaNaois; Treasurer, Carl Lemon.

The Juniors have worked on many projects since their organization. They have collected books for service men, made sunshine boxes, made place cards and decorated match folders for valentines for the Veterans' Hospitals in Leeds and in Bedford, filled a Christmas box for the children in Baldwinville Hospital, filled gift boxes for children in Guatemala and other foreign countries.

Used Turkish towels were brought to cut down, and made into face cloths for service men.

This Christmas we made seventy-five hand decorated place mats for sick bed trays for use in veterans' hospitals.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Jeffrey, faculty adviser, the Hampden Junior Red Cross is doing its bit to help bring Victory nearer.

Christmas Operetta

At Christmas a very pleasing operetta entitled "When Christmas Comes" with words and music by Otis M. Carrington was presented by the pupils of grades one through five. It was the story of an elderly couple alone on Christmas Eve, who were royally entertained by a busload of school children who were stranded near their home and sought shelter in their humble dwelling.

Reading Certificates

Last June we had seventeen graduates; sixteen received honor certificates in reading. Honor certificates are awarded by the Library Commission of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for reading twenty books from the state-approved reading list. Five, at least, of these twenty books must be non-fiction.

Penmanship Certificates

Each graduate last June received a Junior High School certificate for excellence in the Rinehart Method of Functional Handwriting. This speaks well for the teaching of penmanship throughout the grades as this proficiency is cumulative.

Milk

For several years we have been serving milk in our school. We are pleased to report that 110 small bottles are served to our pupils daily.

War Stamps and Bonds

War stamps and bonds are sold daily in our building. The total sales for our school for the year were $2,909.05. This entails a great deal of work which is done entirely by pupils under the supervision of the principal. This work, besides being a worthy war effort, provides splendid training for the pupils.

Reader's Digest Club

A club of thirty-five pupils from grades six, seven, and eight subscribe to the school edition of the Reader's Digest. This edition contains true and false tests, tests of rate and comprehension of reading, paragraph patterns, and other suggestions for getting the most out of the magazine in addition to the ordinary Reader's Digest we all know.

Gift to School

In April the Junior Auxiliary of the Gunther-Rowley Post of the American Legion presented our school with victrola records of "The Story behind the Star Spangled Banner" featuring Lucy Monroe and Arthur P. Sewell, Curator of the Flag House at Baltimore, Maryland.

Assemblies

We are having frequent assemblies in the auditorium this year. In addition to the regular assemblies in observance of legal holidays, we meet for community singing of patriotic songs and hymns. At each assembly we first have unison singing of several songs and hymns by the entire school, then each room presents a pre-arranged program of songs, recitations, or whatever the teacher cares to present.

These assemblies have been most interesting and inspiring.

ELEANOR B. McCRAY

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF ART

To Mr. Edmund R. Sawyer, Superintendent of Schools:

A child is born—"and the glory of the Lord shone round about them." That light is still shining in children's eyes—not only at Christmas, but all through the year.

We, in the schools, are working with these children. They are the peace materials and the leaders of tomorrow. Some of us who have seen them come into the first grades and march out at graduation cannot help but wonder whether we have done all we could to help them. We want to see our children go out confident and competent.

All departments are necessary. We do not expect to make so-called artists of all children. We wouldn't want to; but they can be artists in any line. There is beauty in any good work well done. Art is like seasoning in life—it is vital for happiness.

We have had a busier year than usual in our schools. Our classes, besides doing their regular work, have been busy helping with bond drives, stamp sales, making posters, decorations, invitations, and many items have been made and shipped to the soldiers overseas and to wounded veterans at home. This year nearly 7,500 trees were distributed in our schools.

In one way or another the art classes are tied up with nearly every activity in the schools and that is as it should be.

Much credit for the art work is due the teachers for their patience and cooperation. No one who is not directly connected with the schools can realize what classroom teachers are doing today. Their work is harder than ever before as they work with our children—children with shining eyes.

May we keep the light shining—that light of beauty and hope. The world needs it.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN BARTLETT TOWER

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF HANDWRITING

To Mr. Edmund R. Sawyer, Superintendent of Schools:

I am pleased to submit the following report on the operation of the handwriting program in your schools for the school year of 1943-44.

In the initial handwriting test administered in the Hampden schools in September 1938, 18.4% made "A" (Excellent); 18.4% made "B" (Good); and 63.1% made a score of less and "B". In the test administered in June, 1944, 93% of the pupils were scored "A" (Excellent); 6% made "B" (Good) and no pupils were scored less than "B".

During the last school year we graded approximately 1,240 formal and 3,720 informal handwriting papers for your pupils.

We furnished the following materials for you teachers and pupils:— teacher monthly outlines, pupil folder outlines, room motivation certificates, monthly and term envelopes, individual handwriting certificates for pupils in the eighth grade who qualified, term testing papers, seals, etc.

I should like to express my appreciation for the excellent effort on the part of your teachers and pupils and I assure you that we are grateful for the fine cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

W. L. RINEHART

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC

To Mr. Edmund R. Sawyer, Superintendent of Schools:

From present indications there is a boom in music education. Boys and girls of all ages are taking to music. Men and women in business are studying in their leisure time and for their own pleasure. The returning veteran decides that he, too, must make music.

To us in the music profession this is a challenge. Old methods no longer satisfy. Music instruction must be alive. It must have for the pupil a purposeful meaning. It must satisfy his urge for self-expression and create a tolerant love for all good music. The victrola and radio have brought all types of music to every part of the country, and have kept up high standards of performance.

In Hampden the graduating class sang a patriotic cantata by Chadwick "With All Our Hearts." It proved to be an exacting work performed creditably by the group. Christmas was observed by the artistic presentation of an operetta called "Christmas Comes Again."

Our music program this past year has been made possible through the splendid support of Mr. Sawyer and the school committee, the hard work and initiative of the teachers, and the willingness and interest of the children. For all of these I express my appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

CECILIA C. SEYMOUR

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

To Mr. Edmund R. Sawyer, Superintendent of Schools:

Again there was an interruption of the work when Dr. Schneider was called to serve his country. Dr. Corwin has taken up the work where Dr. Schneider left off and we have carried on the work as in the past, vaccinating, immunizing, weighing, and making physical examinations.

The cooperation of the parents is quite gratifying. However, many were handicapped last summer, some having made arrangements for tonsil operations only to have them cancelled because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis and some scarlet fever in Springfield. Ever so many have had the work done this fall and winter.

While a great number of the children have been immunized against diphtheria, there are still some who have not been made immune by this treatment. I would recommend that parents avail themselves of this opportunity and sign up for the October clinic or have this work done by their family physician. Let's work for one hundred per cent immunization.

We distribute posture and feet literature recommending exercises which help to improve posture and others which help to strengthen the arches. Parents are urged to help bring about better posture by seeing that the children are more conscious of it.

We should strive for physical fitness, which means that the organs of the body are physically sound and capable of working efficiently. This means the practice of good personal hygiene. It means the kind of abundant and buoyant health that gives one the drive and energy that is necessary for happiness under modern conditions of work and living.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the school committee and teachers for their cooperation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion, and the number of people aged 65 and over has increased from 0.2 billion to 0.4 billion (United Nations, 1999).

There are a number of reasons why the world population is growing so rapidly. One of the main reasons is that the number of children born to each woman has increased. This is due to a number of factors, including improved medical care, increased access to contraception, and a shift in cultural values. In many parts of the world, having a large number of children is still seen as a desirable thing, and women are encouraged to have as many children as possible.

Another reason why the world population is growing so rapidly is that the number of people who are surviving to old age has increased. This is due to a number of factors, including improved medical care, increased access to health care, and a shift in cultural values. In many parts of the world, people are now living longer than ever before, and this is leading to a rapid increase in the number of people aged 65 and over.

The rapid growth of the world population is a major challenge for the world's leaders. They need to find ways to provide food, water, and shelter for all the people in the world. They also need to find ways to provide education and health care for all the people in the world. If they do not, the world will be a much poorer place in the future.

There are a number of things that the world's leaders can do to help solve these problems. They can invest in education and health care, and they can encourage people to have smaller families. They can also encourage people to live more sustainably, and they can encourage people to work together to solve the world's problems.

The world's leaders have a responsibility to the people of the world. They need to make sure that everyone has the opportunity to live a good life. They need to make sure that everyone has access to the resources they need to survive. They need to make sure that everyone has the chance to contribute to the world.

The world's leaders have a responsibility to the future. They need to make sure that the world is a better place for the people who will live in it. They need to make sure that the world is a place where everyone has the opportunity to live a good life. They need to make sure that the world is a place where everyone has access to the resources they need to survive.

The world's leaders have a responsibility to the world. They need to make sure that the world is a better place for everyone. They need to make sure that the world is a place where everyone has the opportunity to live a good life. They need to make sure that the world is a place where everyone has access to the resources they need to survive.
